

Pet Insurance

Why We Recommend Pet Insurance

At Main Street Vet we strongly recommend all pets have pet insurance, and especially so for puppies and kittens. Even if your pet seems healthy now, unexpected injuries and illnesses can happen at any age. The time to purchase insurance is before something happens. After an injury or illness occurs, it is considered a pre-existing condition and will not be covered. An insurance policy will give you peace of mind and give your pet the care they deserve.

Types of Insurance Policies

There are many types of coverage available for pet insurance. Many companies offer options for accidents/illnesses as well as wellness services, including vaccines, spay/neuter, and dental cleanings. Wellness services alone cost hundreds of dollars every year. Emergency surgeries and complicated illnesses can easily cost several thousand dollars. Most pet owners are unprepared for these expenses.

How to Choose a Company and Plan

We recommend comparing plans from several companies. Each one will have different options—monthly cost, deductible, amount of reimbursement, conditions covered, etc., so with some comparison you will be able to find the policy that fits your needs. Below is a list of some of the top-rated pet insurance companies for you to find more information and to obtain a quote.
